To. Hiring Manager
Design Tech Department
Gemini Trust Company, LLC

Date.

September 11, 2020

Dear Hiring Manager,

As a Gemini user, I became excited when I saw the posting for the Associate Visual Designer position. As an investment and trading enthusiast, I am certain that I can aid Gemini in “building the future of money”. I have experience leading successful marketing campaigns through creative programming and design. Moreover, I have managed teams totaling +300 people and have generated $150,000 in revenue.

While at Vector Marketing, I managed multiple +75-person marketing teams. For three years, I designed marketing emails and promotions for new products. I pioneered social-media marketing, which resulted in 102.9% sales growth year-over-year. Furthermore, I adapted our recruiting campaign to accommodate shifting applicant demographics. Newly focused on ages 17-23, I curated our content for social media. As a result, applicant quality improved, and total recruits grew by 27.9% year-over-year.

Gemini’s Design Tech department combines creativity, design, and data. The Associate Visual Designer manages day-to-day marketing, ad campaign development, and brand building. This role is a perfect match for me: I can combine my professional and personal interests. I can support Gemini’s goals by leveraging programming, my creativity, and marketing experience.

I welcome a discussion about Gemini’s visual design and marketing objectives. I also welcome a discussion of how my success at Vector could translate into growth for the Gemini brand. Let us “build the future of money” together.

Sincerely,

AJ Dysick

P.S. — Inquire about how I systemized, implemented, and replicated a profitable, 4-month business model.
